

The Shadow of Death

Studies show that breast milk of mothers in India is also contaminated with different pesticides

Pesticide residue levels tested in women with reproductive tract cancer were significantly higher than in others

Significant decrease of fertility in men exposed to pesticides has been documented.

Ultimately, unborn children are also being affected by pesticides that parents are exposed.

Won't we even give our next generation a chance to be born or born healthy?

